

Note on Contributors

Naya Quintana is currently pursuing M.A in English Literature at Florida International University (FIU). She works with the Center for Excellence in Writing at FIU as a Graduate Writing Consultant. Much of her work focuses on the Cuban-American experience, given that she has familial roots in Cuba. Some of her poems have been published by O'Miami, a non-profit organisation in South Florida, and she has another collection of poems set to be published by a small Dominican zine called Unapologetic Zine this year.

Email ID: nqceleste8118@gmail.com

Ahana Mitra has been working as a PhD Research Scholar in the Department of English, Jadavpur University. For her current project, she proposes to trace the relations between Bhadrakok travel practices and the establishment of a Bengali colony, in a group of regions now falling within the post-independence Indian states of Bihar and Jharkhand. Her research focuses on the development of Bhadrakok cultures in Bengal and its impacts on the region.

Email ID: Ahana.Maitra@gmail.com

Sumana Mukherjee has completed her M.A in English from Banaras Hindu University. She is currently preparing for her PhD coursework. Her academic interests include gender and cultural studies with a focus on texts and lives from the margins.

Email ID: sumanamukherjee1996@gmail.com

Sreya Chatterjee has completed her post-graduation in English Literature from Jadavpur University. Her research interests include postcolonial literature, gender studies, and popular culture. She writes fiction in her spare time and her poetry was recently published in Setu Magazine and LiveWire.

Email ID: sreyaunpaused@gmail.com

Aniket Roy has completed his M.A from the Department of English, University of Calcutta. His research interests include Literature and Cinema, modernism and postmodernism, post-World War English poetry, twentieth century European drama, and postcolonialism.

Email ID: aniketroy422@gmail.com

Aaron Phillips Hammes, Adjunct Assistant Professor of Sociology, John Jay College in Manhattan, NY. Dr. Hammes holds a Ph.D in English from the CUNY Graduate Center and has published around his dissertation work on contemporary transgender minor literature, as well as researching, teaching, and publishing around prison abolition, sex work, and Black feminism.

Email ID: ahammes@grandcenter.cuny.edu

Bhaswati Bhattacharjee completed her M.A in English from the University of Calcutta in 2016. She is presently engaged as a Junior Research Fellow at the Department of English and Other European Languages, Dr Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya. The thrust area of her research is war memoirs of marginalised women. She has published her works in various international peer-reviewed journals.

Email ID: bhaswati162@gmail.com

Nazneen Hoque is currently a Ph.D Fellow in the Department of Comparative Literature, Jadavpur University. She has completed her M.Phil from the Department of English, Jadavpur University. Her research interests include comics, graphics novels, and diaspora and migration Studies. She is working on a comparative study of Central American and Syrian refugees in Graphic novels.

Email ID: nazneenhoque1911@gmail.com

Ritu Madan is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, Shivaji College (University of Delhi).

Email ID: ritumdan@gmail.com

Tanusree Basak is currently working as Assistant Editor at Primus books, New Delhi. She has completed her M.A in English literature from Sri Venkateswara College, University of Delhi. She has also completed her Advanced Diploma in French from Hansraj College, University of Delhi in 2019. Her areas of interest include postcolonial literature, modernism, literature of the diaspora, nineteenth century colonial India, visual arts, translation studies, and French literature.

Email ID: basaktanu@gmail.com

Tazeen Ali is an M.Phil scholar at the Department of English, University of Delhi. Her dissertation focuses on the possible conversations between the writings from the qasbas and the Hindustani short story. She is currently working as Head of Documentation at Riyaaaz, Ektara India, an organisation dedicated to publishing literature for children in Hindi. Her research interests include visual cultures, genre studies, children's literature, and the sociology of sports.

Email ID: tazeenali09@gmail.com